

Back to learning in 2020 :

The concerns and preferences

74%

have some level of concern to return to learning due to covid.

Those very concerned:

26%

38%

28%

Causes for those very concerned:

34% how prepared school is

37% their ability to learn considering the potential changes

47% how seriously other students will take social distancing and other measures

This concern leads to a shift of those opting for fully online instruction:

27%

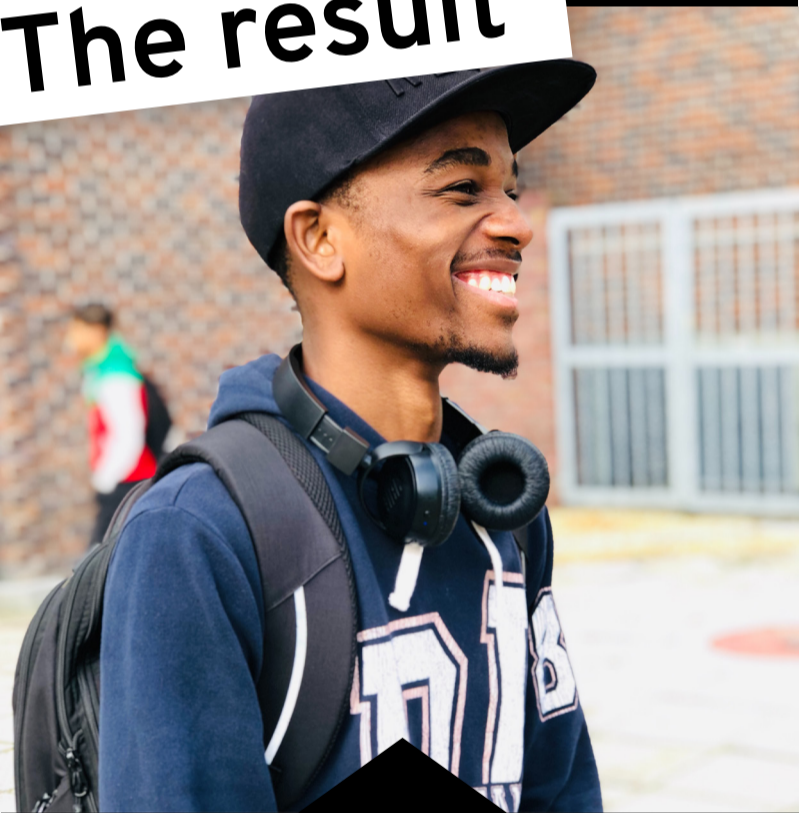

47%

10%

The result

68%

say we are rushing back to school prematurely

51%

say schools are not prepared to safely return to learning

53%

agree that schools/boards have been effectively communicating their plans with the public